

Hidden gems and Forgotten People

COUNTY ROSCOMMON ARCHAEOLOGICAL AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Ha-ha Drumdaff House, Darrane, Co. Roscommon

A Ha-ha, an eighteenth century landscape feature, was a sunken ditch which kept livestock from the environs of the big house and unlike a wall, fence or hedge, ensured an uninterrupted view from the house.

Jim Ganly